Terms and conditions

By making this application to transport a high load, the Applicant:

- agrees that any approval granted by UFF will be valid only for the date and times entered on this application;
- declares that the information entered on this application, including date and time of move and maximum height, is correct;
- agrees if the information entered on this application is incorrect, and as a result damage is suffered, the Applicant will cover all costs of repairing the damage, and will indemnify and keep indemnified UFF against claims by third parties arising from such damage (including but not limited to, consequential damage, legal and other associated costs);
- agrees that the issue of an approval by UFF does not exempt the Applicant from liability arising from damage to UFF's network caused by the load, whether it is escorted or not;
- agrees to take all due care, whether or not the load is escorted;
- agrees to report any damage suffered to the UFF network, as a result of transporting the load, to UFF immediately;
- agrees to abide by the directions off UFF's field force representatives in relation to the safeguarding of UFF's aerial network and associated equipment during the transport of the load; and
- agrees to pay all charges incurred by UFF in connection with the transport of the load.
